Internship Program

Howdy ya'll, my name is Travis Mueller, and I'm the new intern at FARM Inc.

I am currently studying Agricultural Economics at Texas A&M University, and will be starting my senior year this upcoming fall. I am ready for the opportunity to have a hands on experience with financial and risk management in the ag sector.

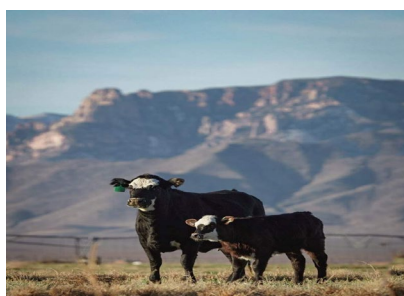

Hopefully, in my free time I will be able to improve my golf game while I am here .

I am extremely excited about this internship with FARM Inc, and I am looking forward to meeting you all this summer.

Weaned Calf Protection

A new cattle risk management product is on the horizon in Nebraska, Texas, Colorado, and South Dakota: Weaned Calf Revenue Protection (WCRP). This new policy will provide federally subsidized revenue protection for the decline in price and lost yield in the form of decreased overall weaning weight per third-party confirmed weaning weight. The release is slated for this fall for the 2024 crop year.

Please contact us at FARM Inc. for more information.

USDA Expands Margin Protection

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is expanding its Margin Protection insurance plan, adding more than a thousand counties to the insurance option that provides coverage against an unexpected decrease in operating margin for corn and soybean producers. This expansion, which is in direct response to growing interest among producers, will be available by June 30, 2023. If interested, you will need to purchase your coverage by Sept. 30, 2023, to be eligible for the 2024 crop year.
